This course examines the intersection of motherhood and politics in the United States with a focus on contemporary politics. There will be some grounding in 19th and 20th century women’s political history. We will consider the politics of motherhood in various forms: the relevance of parental identity in the political choices of women; the cultural and political battles surrounding reproductive justice and the ability of women to choose motherhood; the complicated ways that motherhood is represented in popular culture; and the intersections of race, class and sexual orientation with the politics of motherhood. Although the enrollment is a bit large, this course functions as a traditional in-depth seminar. The focus is on close reading of the texts, careful and original analysis of key ideas, class participation, and written analysis.

ASSESSMENT

Class leadership (10%) Each week one or two students will be responsible for leading the class discussion by preparing discussion questions and guiding conversation on the assigned readings.

Five Reading Response Papers (50%) Each student will write five (5) 700-1000 word essays in response to the assigned readings. Students will sign up in Week 1 of class for which weeks they will respond. Each response paper is worth 10% of the grade. Together these papers account for 50% of the grade.

Reading Response Papers are due at 12 Noon each Wednesday via email. Students may choose to write in response to reading from any five weeks of their choice. However, at least two (2) papers must be submitted in response to readings before Spring Break.

Final Essay (20%) Students will choose to write a final essay from five possible prompts. Students will have 24 hours to complete the essay. The final essay should not exceed eight (8), double-spaced, 12-point font, pages with standard one-inch margins.

Annotated Bibliography (10%) Each student will prepare an annotated bibliography of 5 to 7 sources corresponding to the week the student leads class discussion. Annotated bibliographies should include academic sources with a mix of books and articles. Annotations should be 150-300 words long. Annotated bibliographies are due the final day of class.

Class Participation (10%) Students are expected to complete all readings before each class. The professor will call on students to contribute. Lack of familiarity with the assigned material will have a negative affect on student assessment. Written attendance will be taken.
Late Assignment Policy

All students have one Free Pass to be used on any written assignment except the final essay. One assignment can be turned in up to 48 hours late with no questions asked and no negative consequences for the grade. After the Free Pass is used, any assignment submitted late will be subject to the late assignment policy. Assignments submitted late will lose 1/3 letter grade for any late submission within the first 48 hours. Each additional 24 hours results in another 1/3 letter grade reduction. Exceptions to this policy will only be made for emergencies or health challenges that are documented by a physician or university administrator. All assignments must be submitted via time stamped email.

REQUIRED TEXTS

Readings marked with a * are available as links from the course website. Books are all available through the university bookstore.

INTRODUCTION

Week 1: January 14  Introduction to the Course

No readings required before the first class meeting.

ELECTORAL POLITICS

Week 2: January 21  Motherhood and the Franchise

Week 3: January 28  Targeting Moms as Workers and Voters

* Walmart Mom Voter Research Project. Please read through the site carefully. Available here: http://www.walmartmomsresearch.com

Week 4: February 4  A Mother for Vice President: Sarah Palin

* Loke, Jaime, Dustin Harp & Ingrid Bachmann. “Mothering and Governing: How news articulated gender roles in the cases of Governors Jane Swift and Sarah Palin.” Journalism

MOTHERHOOD IN POPULAR CULTURE

Week 5: February 11  Popular Culture

Douglas and Michaels, The Mommy Myth, Chapters 1-5, 8, 10
Maternal Theory, Chapter 34 and 35

Week 6: February 18  The Workplace Mommy Wars

Maternal Theory, Chapter 7, Chapter 17 and Chapter 25

REPRODUCTIVE POLITICS

Week 7: February 25  Reproductive Rights, Foundational Text

Luker, Abortion and the Politics of Motherhood.

Week 8: March 4  Reproductive Rights at the Intersections

Roberts, Killing the Black Body: Race, Reproduction and the Meaning of Liberty. (selections)
Maternal Theory, Chapter 29, Chapter 47 and Chapter 50

SPRING BREAK

Week 9: March 18  Surrogacy, Motherhood as Pregnancy

Twine, Outsourcing the Womb: Race, Class and Gestational Surrogacy in a Global Market.

Week 10: March 25  Surrogacy, Motherhood as Domestic Labor

Hondagneu-Sotelo, Domestica: Immigrant Workers Cleaning and Caring in the Shadows of Affluence.

MOTHERS ON THE MARGINS

Week 11: April 1  Motherhood and Poverty

Introduction and Chapter 6
Motherhood Theory, Chapter 40 and Chapter 44

Week 12: April 8  Lesbian Motherhood

Motherhood Theory, Chapter 9, Chapter 11, Chapter 12, Chapter 23, Chapter 30

MOTHERHOOD AND ACTIVISM

Week 13: April 15  Motherhood and Feminism

Kinser, Motherhood and Feminism.

Week 14: April 22  Education Activism

Dyrness, Mothers United: An Immigrant Struggle for Socially Just Education.

CONCLUSION

Week 15: April 29

FINAL SUMMARY or FLEX DATE